Section 3: Your Movable (Personal) Estate

Movable estate includes for example share transfer property, cash, investments, shares, motor vehicles, jewellery, household contents and digital assets.

Your movable estate, unlike immovable estate, is governed by the law of your country of domicile.

Domicile: If you were born in Jersey and intend to live in Jersey for the rest of your days, then it is likely that you are domiciled in Jersey. If you were not born in Jersey but are resident in Jersey and intend to remain here for the rest of your days, you may well have acquired a domicile of choice in Jersey. We would be pleased to discuss this subject with you if you require further information.

Where are you domiciled?

Your current assets

This information is relevant to the making of your Will of movable estate and will assist Viberts in providing you with the necessary advice in relation to your wishes. It is also important if you require tailored estate planning advice.

Section 8: Your Immovable (Real) Estate

This section deals with immovable estate only.

Immovable estate includes freehold land and buildings, flying freehold property, leases over 9 years and certain types of mortgages. If you do not own immovable estate you do not need to complete this section.

Please note that share transfer property is treated as movable property. If you own a share transfer property your instructions relating to that property must be included in Section 3: Your Movable (Personal) Estate.

If you own property outside of Jersey, the law of the country where the property is situated governs the inheritance of that property. Viberts can only advise on Jersey, so if you own property outside of Jersey you must take advice from a lawyer in that country, in relation to your property rights and its succession.

Non-Jersey Property
If you own immovable estate in another country, please confirm where and its value:	Country: Value:
Most, but not all, EU states allow the holder of a British passport, which has been issued in Jersey, to select Jersey inheritance law as the law which will govern the immovable property located in that EU state. Would you like further information on this option?	Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/>

Jersey Property
Full Postal Address:	Postcode:
Approximate current value:	£
Do you own this property in your sole name or jointly with another?	Solely <input type="checkbox"/> Jointly <input type="checkbox"/>
*If the ownership is joint, please confirm whether you hold the property jointly for the survivor of you, or jointly as tenants in common?
Please also confirm the full name of the other joint owners:
Are there any charges registered on the property, such as a mortgage or loan?	Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/>
Do you have a life insurance policy assigned to the lender to cover your loan/mortgage in the event of your death?	Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/>

*Joint owners with the right of the survivorship have equal rights and ownership of immovable property. If one owner dies the surviving owners automatically retain full ownership of the entire property.

Tenants in common share ownership in a property. Each owner controls an equal or different percentage of the total property. When they die their share passes to the beneficiary named in their Will.

If you own any immovable property in Jersey, please provide further details in Section 10 of this questionnaire.

Section 9: Instruction for your Immovable Estate

Do you wish to leave 100% of your immovable estate to your spouse, civil partner, or partner in the first instance?

Yes No

If no, to whom do you wish to leave your immovable estate? Please provide the full names of your chosen beneficiaries below.

If you have ticked 'yes' in the box above, we would recommend that you and your spouse/partner consider including mirror provisions in your Will to cover the beneficiaries who will inherit when both of you have died. Otherwise, if your beneficiaries differ, upon the death of the first one of you, the property will pass to the survivor of you and then to the beneficiaries named only in their Will.

Please note that you cannot place Jersey immovable estate into Trust, nor can you stipulate that your immovable estate is sold upon your death and the proceeds of sale be divided in a certain way.
